December Travel Performance*:

Metro Orlando's travel performance trailed in December compared to the same time last year with hotel occupancy down by 3% from December 2022, averaging 70.5% compared to 72.6% and hotel demand down 2%. The Average Daily Rate for Orlando hotels decreased by 2.4% to $204.49.

2023 Travel Performance In-Review*:

Orlando and Florida's overall travel performance shifted and rebalanced in 2023 as the domestic leisure travel surge from 2022 faded as travelers returned to other U.S. and international destinations. Looking at the full year 2023, metro Orlando occupancy trailed slightly behind 2022 with the average of 72.7% verses 73.4% in 2022. Other key results include:

- Average Daily Rate for metro Orlando hotels surpassed prior year growing from $185.98 to $192.98, a 3.8% increase.
- Robust group travel fueled a record-high attendance at the Orange County Convention Center, hosting 125 citywide events compared to 111 in 2022, with total attendance rising from 1,235,378 to 1,397,477.

Orlando International Airport achieved a new record with a 15.1% increase in total passengers year-over-year. (*Source: Visit Orlando).

On the TDT reserve side, Renewal & Replacement Reserves (“R&RR) increased by $9.1 million in December as shown in the attached “TDT Cash Reserve Summary”. The Other Authorized Uses Reserves, which is a component of the R&RR, is currently at $65.1 million. This reserve will help offset some of the future expenses associated with the recently approved projects and programs such as the Convention Center 5a expansion project, Camping World Stadium renovations, Kia Center renovations, the additional Arts and Application Review Committee (ARC) funding, and the UCF football stadium tower project.

We will release the January TDT collections report in early March.
